

A detailed floor plan of a building. A red boundary outlines a portion of the top-left corner, including a large open area and a small section of the building's perimeter. A blue boundary outlines the rest of the building's footprint, which includes a central corridor, two elevator shafts labeled 'ELEV.', a storage area labeled 'STORAGE', and several rooms with furniture and fixtures. The plan also shows a grid of small squares representing floor tiles and several small blue circles scattered throughout the open areas.
